

Essential to the printing process

The printer, forwarding, dispatch. Newspapers, books, magazines. Massive rolls, tonnes of paper, internal transport. Ink, chemicals, pigment, paper. Particularly true in the printing business: the cleaner a floor is, the cleaner it stays. Bolidt has developed the printer's flooring especially for this industry. This Bolidtop® 500 system is smooth, conductive or antistatic, dust-free and clean, but it is also resistant to heavy loads and various chemicals. Requirements, which are essential to the printing process.

Because of Bolidt's experience in the printing industry, the choice of this flooring system was a natural one for NPN Printers' management.

For the interior of the new business premises in Breda, NPN has chosen an open and modern design.

This open and modern character takes shape in, for instance, the decision to use old scaffolding beams as a wall finish, the table that was chosen for the canteen (one table for the entire office staff), the open connection between the production and office area and the selection of the Bolidtop® FiftyFifty flooring system. Synthetic flooring systems have been fitted throughout the building, with the result that it fully meets the technical and aesthetic requirements that were set.

The flooring amply lives up to the expectations of NPN and the architect. Because of this, the cooperation between NPN Printers and Bolidt will be continued in the new business space that will be built in 2008.
