

Bolidt flooring heals wounds from painful experiences

An important certainty: to have a place where people are always there for you, where you feel safe, being in good hands. All of this is a towering wish when you are ill. Just then you want the best medical help and care, knowing that during that time there is no better place to be. The St. Anna-Virngrund-Clinic in Germany aims to fulfil these needs. As a standard health care organization, the Virngrund clinic offers a wide product range in the areas of Surgery, Internal medicine, Gynaecology & Obstetrics, E.N.T. specialties and Anaesthesia & Intensive care. Most special is the department of Urology, the only main department situated in this clinic. Child – and youth psychiatry has recently been added to the versatile product range. There are currently 247 beds available in the clinic. In the upcoming years the supply will be round off by providing Adult psychiatry as well. With “The patient is the center of our course of action” as a motto, all patients receive competent nursing and medical treatments. The personal and individual treatment of and dedication to patients are a remarkable, but logical priority. Furthermore, to have complete and recent knowledge, means and techniques the clinic attaches much value to close and adjusted cooperation with any kind of parties within the health care industry. Several existing collaborations emphasize this modern and innovative company philosophy.

A part of the clinic was completely renovated during the last couple of years. It herewith became possible to construct a new building of 9 floors, that was taken into use. After years of, partly painful, experience with several types of floors and problem causing damages, the decision was made to follow a whole new avenue by applying synthetic flooring systems on a large scale. For instance, in the “heart of the clinic” and in the important treatment facilities Bolidt applied a Bolidtop® Stato 500, a flooring system that conducts electricity in order to protect human and equipment. In the corridors and patient rooms Bolidt installed the Bolidtop® 525 deco, the exact right floor according to the clinic’s wishes: a soundproof, walk-friendly, comfortable floor which is on top of all that a feast for the eye. Hygienic, seamless and well-balanced skirting was a must. For an organization like the St. Anna-Virngrund-Clinic, only “glamour” is literally life-threatening, so Bolidt handled the skirting request with care. Beauty, but no glamour! The clinic obviously had even more faith in Bolidt, since the technical areas were provided with functional, purposive flooring systems as well: Bolicoat® 50 and Bolidtop® 300 deco. Looking at the final results, the clinic was also very positive about the ratio of price and quality.

Thanks to the flooring systems of Bolidt, the St. Anna-Virngrund-Clinic now also fulfils its own wish to be modern and future-oriented and to provide the patients with not only the best medical care, but also to look out for their safety and spiritual welfare in the best possible way.
